

Creating a Google Account

The image shows the Google sign-in page. On the left, the Google logo is above the text "Sign in" and a paragraph: "with your Google Account. This account will be available to other Google apps in the browser." To the right is a text input field labeled "Email or phone". Below it is a link "Forgot email?". Further down is a link "Not your computer? Use Guest mode to sign in privately. Learn more about using Guest mode". At the bottom right, there is a "Create account" link and a blue "Next" button. A dropdown menu is open from "Create account", showing three options: "For my personal use", "For my child", and "For work or my business". At the bottom left, there is a language selector set to "English (United States)". At the bottom right, there is a link to "Terms".

Privacy and Terms

To create a Google Account, you'll need to agree to the Terms of Service below.

In addition, when you create an account, we process your information as described in our Privacy Policy, including these key points:

Data we process when you use Google

- When you set up a Google Account, we store information you give us like your name, email address, and telephone number.
- When you use Google services to do things like write a message in Gmail or comment on a YouTube video, we store the information you create.
- When you search for a restaurant on Google Maps or watch a video on YouTube, for example, we process information about that activity – including information like the video you watched, device IDs, IP addresses, cookie data, and location.
